News and projects

 Happy New Year **

let's make it Transitional

Dickensian Evening - Transitions Greener Christmas Stall was very successful and many people were very interested in the ideas we had and the lovely biscuits .. comments were that it was great to see another way to have Christmas and that the stall showed a non-commercial side

so we plan to work towards next year- having many easily made items to show that it is easy to have a simpler lovely Christmas

Lost Threads HUB

The next Hub meet-up is on 4 January 2010 at the Talbot *and for the foreseeable future the Hub will always meet on the first Monday of the month (we'll worry about the odd bank holiday later!)

The Royal Talbot have been very generous and have offered us the space for the whole year

Next HUB: Monday 4 January 10- until mid-day at the Royal Talbot, and we will be looking at some basic knitting ideas along with help for individual projects

Fruit and Nuts: Orchard project

4 lovely apple trees were planted at the Brambles site marking one of the first projects to reinstate fruit and nut trees around Lostwithiel

2010

Transition Lostwithiel plans to expand on has already been achieved by the projects which are under way

THE BIG SEED PLANT

The plan is to grow plenty of vegetable plants by having a mass seed planting day – we have been given the use of a greenhouse and have loads of pots, compost and seeds, so all we need is the Spring!.

The plants will be on the weekly plant swop stall and will include runner beans and outdoor tomatoes, which proved to be in demand last year

If you want to help by growing some on at home contact Lesley Bower 873363

EVENTS

Transition Lostwithiel will look at what major events can be organized – such as THE BIG LUNCH, SUNDAY DEBATES and workshops throughout 2010

These projects may only be small but they contribute towards skills not being lost but passed on. One main aim is to make sure that the projects fit the community of Lostwithiel. Any comments??
